

ENGL 467
Final Exam Review

Spring 2004

The final exam will take place Saturday, May 15, 1:30-3:30 in SQH 2112. No make-ups will be given if you miss the exam. The final will be similar to the mid-term in format and expectations. It will focus primarily on material from the second half of the course, but one essay question will ask you to synthesize ideas—and produce some examples—from throughout the entire semester. There will be some practically-oriented questions on working in the MOO.

Possible ID and short answer questions (I will draw some of the IDs from the list below):

Bug	Ute
Compiler	Johanna
Tester	Emergence
GUI	Instrumental Text
Machine Language	Smart Mob
Game of Life	Unfiction
Memex	Hypertext
Vannevar Bush	Flash
Storyspace	Texting
Peter/Wert/Lolly/Nausicaa	Slime Mold

For the essays, you should be prepared to discuss—in detail—at least six of the following, or Ullman's The Bug and three of the following:

- Joyce's afternoon
- Jackson's My Body
- Lialina's My boyfriend came back from the war
- Nelson's Flash poetry
- Borges/Bookchin's "The Interloper"/"The Intruder"
- Moulthrop's Pax
- Onesixty
- Flight Risk
